Federal Heights neighborhoods of Salt Lake City, Utah

Chair's Message for July

by Jill Van Langeveld

"I'm just a citizen temporarily in public service."

I became involved with the GACC when I heard there was group of people who were making decisions for me whom I didn't elect. I started attending their meetings and discovered that they were a very diverse group who loved the Avenues and wanted to do things that would make the Avenues a better place to live.

After attending off and on for a few years, I volunteered to help on the Street Fair Committee because the new chairman was the son of my children's piano teacher, and I wanted to support Tom.

This was in 1996. I'd never been to the street fair before and had no idea how this decision would change my life. I thought I'd volunteer to do something small that wouldn't take much time. Maybe I could get it done ahead of time so I wouldn't need to attend the fair.

Well, that didn't happen! Instead I met a wonderful group of people. We worked hard all summer. We discussed. We argued. We laughed. We became friends. The day of the Street Fair arrived. We had a wonderful, extremely busy day and were so happy that we'd actually made some money for the GACC.

"There is a debt of service due from every man to his country, proportioned to the bounties which nature and fortune have measured to him." — Thomas Jefferson

OK, I thought. Now I've done my service; I have paid my debt. Then as Spring came around and the first meeting for the next year's Street Fair Committee was announced, I started thinking about the people I'd met and I realized that if I didn't volunteer, I wouldn't see them again.

Putting on the big successful neighborhood party was very satisfying, but it was the people that made the experience so special: my friends and the happy people at the fair. I was hooked with both the Street Fair and the GACC.

"Enjoy your time in public service. It may well be one of the most interesting and challenging times of your life."

This is one thing on which Donald Rumsfeld and I agree! Yes, this volunteer job of mine takes time and effort, yet it is always interesting and challenging. Occasionally frustrating. Why do I stay involved? Again it's the people: my neighbors, my friends.

"One of the best lessons I learned early is that not everything in life is about you. It is about service. If you want trips and excessive gifts, then don't get into public service." - Sean Hannity

"I'm just a citizen temporarily in public service." --

Please Note: There is no regular community meeting of the GACC in July. We invite all residents to attend our Meet the Candidates night on Wednesday, July 10.

President Reagan always had a way with words.

We have eight people who would like to be "a citizen temporarily in public service" as our new Mayor. The GACC Board has arranged for a Candidate Night where all those running will be together in one spot. The new Mayor will make a difference in the City and in the Avenues.

Be a part of the process. Plan to attend the July 10 Meet the Candidates night at Intermountain LDS Hospital auditorium, at C Street at 9th Avenue, 7:00 to 9:00 p.m.

Please note there will be no regular community meeting of the Greater Avenues Community Council in July.

"People often say that, in a democracy, decisions are made by a majority of the people. Of course, that is not true. Decisions are made by a majority of those who make themselves heard and who vote – a very different thing." – Walter H. Judd

"Do the unexpected. Take 20 minutes out of your day, do what young people all over the world are dying to do: vote." – Rick Mercer

"Voter apathy was, and will remain the greatest threat to democracy." – Hazen Pingree

"Science may have found a cure for most evils; but it has found no remedy for the worst of them all - the apathy of human beings." -- Helen Keller

Vote by mail ballots will be mailed on July 23rd. The Primary election is August 13th. "Just Do It!" – Nike Corp.

I encourage your attendance at our Meet the Candidates event on July 10, where all eight Salt Lake City Mayor candidates will introduce themselves and answer questions provided by you, Avenues residents.

My name is Jim Dabakis. I live in the lower Avenues. I have been a small business-person for the last 30 years, meeting a payroll and dealing with all the issues that entails. In 2010, I turned my business over to my husband and dived headfirst, full-time, with passion, into trying to improve my community, city, and state by jumping into politics. I was elected as Utah State Democratic Party Chair.

I served without pay or expenses, traveling the state, rallying people to get involved! I loved every minute of that job--as I explored our breathtakingly beautiful state and met people who inspired me every single day.

In 2013, over tough competition, I was elected to the Utah State Senate--with a seven vote "landslide." My six years in the Senate ended last December. It was a great joy and the honor of my life to represent you.

While I served in the Capitol, I was always firm (and loud) in representing OUR values, but I made great efforts to keep the friendship and respect of my colleagues on the other side of the aisle. Nothing is possible unless we work together.

It would be my privilege to represent you, this time as Mayor. I would love your support. Thank you.

Hello, I am Rainer Huck. My campaign is focusing on issues that affect the working people of Salt Lake City, i.e. government over- regulation, over-taxation, and over-policing.

I offer concrete solutions to these issues: The popular annual cleanup is a bureaucratic mess and is now practically useless. Sales taxes, which disproportionately punish our poorest citizens, were raised to hire 50 more police at a time when crime is down 25% in the last three years. The latest budget is up an additional 10% and seeks to hire even more police.

The current administration seeks to more than double city water/sewer rates in the next few years, further contributing to the browning of our city each summer as residents cannot afford to water their lawns. Few people realize that city water rates have increased 100 times over the past 50 years. That's not 100%, but 100 times more, nearly ten times the rate of inflation over the same period.

The new airport construction is horribly mismanaged, with the cost more than doubling from 1.8 Billion (which was a lot already), to over 3.8 billion now with no end in sight. In addition, the unnecessary demolition of the beautiful parking structure and the existing terminals will be an environmental nightmare.

Salt Lake City charges the highest permit fee in the state for roof top solar installation, at $1,000. It is wrong for a government supposedly dedicated to environmental improvement to impede this important work by taxing it. There should be no permit fee for solar.

I will build a big, beautiful homeless campus where these people can live in dignity with all services being provided until they can return to society. The current system which expels people to the streets at 6:00 a.m. is inhumane and needs to change. Thank you for your support.

I am Richard Goldberger, your solutions-based candidate for Salt Lake City Mayor.

Number one, I am a common-sense-o-crat. Number two, my slogan is GBO; Government By Objectives, and GCS; Government by Common Sense.

I focus in a laser-specific way on issues concerning Salt Lake City that are under-addressed or not addressed at all. My pledge is to make a difference, and be the difference in a positive way. Regarding the homeless problem, I refer to these human beings as domestic refugees and refer to a shelter as a Human Resource Campus. In Salt Lake City, well over $100,000,000 has been spent to deal with this problem locally, and the return on this investment is very limited. In fact, in reality the problem has gotten worse. I have a very unique approach to dealing with this Social Service Emergency.

I have the gift of vision in the form of offering doable solutions to some of our most hideous problems. I have doable answers to make Salt Lake City incredibly progressive and a very exciting place to live.

My name is Luz Escamilla and I am running to be Salt Lake City Mayor.

Just over twenty years ago, I made Salt Lake City my home. I came here in search of the American Dream that we hear so much about. I came here to learn, to grow, and to build a life.

The breadth and depth of my experience sets me apart from the other candidates in the race. I started my career in the nonprofit sector. I worked for Utah

Issues and the Utah Domestic Violence Coalition, then Governor John Huntsman appointed me Director of the State Office of Ethnic Affairs. I served in this position until I was elected to the Utah State Senate District 1.

For almost thirteen years, I have worked for Zions Bank helping develop small and large businesses with a focus on community. I also give back to our community by serving on various boards such as Silicon Slopes Executive Board, Women in the Economy Commission, Primary Children's Hospital Board of Directors, and Utah's Air Quality Policy Advisory Committee.

As Mayor of Salt Lake City, I will rely on data driven research, I will bring consensus between the City, County and State on issues impacting our community such as clean air, affordable housing, homelessness, and active transportation. I will continue working with the underserved in our city, with business leaders, and across the aisle of politics to accomplish goals for Salt Lake City residents.

Salt Lake has given me everything that I dreamed of and things that I never could have imagined. I love this city and everything it has to offer.

Our city deserves transformative leadership, and I am asking for you to entrust me with the job. I am asking for your vote on August 13. Visit <https://luzformayor.com/>.

For more information on the Mayor's race and other election information, visit <https://slco.org/clerk/elections/>.

Erin Mendenhall is a mom to three kids and loves Salt Lake City — its people, its neighborhoods, and its incredible spirit.

She wants every child here to grow up in a city with clean air, strong neighborhoods, and a thriving, resilient economy.

That's why she co-founded Breathe Utah and now chairs the state's Air Quality Board, and it is why she has served on the Salt Lake City Council these last six years.

Erin has learned how to make the city government work for the people of Salt Lake City. She works hard for our community, and she gets results.

Erin is the only candidate in this race who didn't buy her way onto the ballot. She and her supporters went out and knocked on doors and obtained the required signatures because she believes this race ought to be about our community.

Erin has the experience, energy, and resolve to lead Salt Lake City as its Mayor. Visit <https://erinmendenhall.com>.

David Ibarra is the son of a Mexican immigrant farm worker. David and his brother Mickey spent nearly the first fourteen years of their lives in the Utah foster care system.

David started his first business at age 28. David's business background spans highly successful careers in the hospitality, automotive, and the self-improvement industries.

Through David's foundation he has assisted nearly one hundred students in obtaining their college education.

Because of the challenges David faced growing up, he has gained a passion for compassion, inclusion and fairness for all members of our community.

David is a proven, progressive leader ready now, and ready to serve Salt Lake City as Mayor. Learn more about his campaign at <https://meet.ibarra4mayor.com>.

David Garbett

As a father of two young girls, I'm constantly reminded of the extreme challenges our city faces.

In the coming years, Salt Lake City will have an opportunity to lead the way in providing clean air, a stable climate, affordable housing, and resources for those in need.

My career has been built around these challenges, and as Mayor I'll use my experiences to address our most important concerns. As an attorney for the Southern Utah Wilderness Alliance, I dedicated 10 years of my life to fighting for our environment and public lands; as the Executive Director of the Pioneer Park Coalition, I worked on the ground with those experiencing homelessness to provide greater resources.

I hope to earn your vote for Mayor. Please see more about my campaign at <https://www.garbettformayor.com/>.

Stan Penfold is a two-term City Councilman for the Avenues, Capitol Hill, Marmalade, and Guadalupe neighborhoods. Stan is running to be your neighborhood mayor.

Through his experience in leadership on the City Council, two decades of managing a non-profit, and a solid foundation in neighborhood activism, Stan has nurtured the relationships necessary to bring people of diverse backgrounds together to achieve common goals. That's how he changed City ordinances and zoning to allow locally owned businesses like Avenues Proper to operate in neighborhoods. That's how he passed the first "Free Fare Friday." That's how he helped build the Eccles Theater and new Marmalade and Glendale libraries. And that's how he renamed 900 South to honor civil rights leader Harvey Milk.

Stan has the vision, skill, patience, empathy, boldness, and awareness of oneself and others to be Salt Lake City's next mayor. Visit www.stanformayor.com for the Stan Plan.

Goats in the Avenues!

Recently, I've found myself in numerous friendly arguments with friends and family over who is the "GOAT (Greatest Of All Time)". Most commonly applied to professional athletes, i.e. NBA superstar Michael Jordan has long been known as GOAT, but LeBron James' 8 consecutive NBA Finals Appearances (with 3 victories) and Tom Brady's 9 Super Bowl trips (with 6 victories) have people re-thinking who should wear the crown.

Wait a second... perhaps I misread my assignment. I'm sure our newsletter readers are more interested in the goats located on the hillside of Bonneville Boulevard and 11th Avenue rather than a debate over the varying level of success among superstars!

There has been a lot of talk about the goats in our neighborhood, so the GACC decided to check-in and report our findings. If you travel north on Bonneville Blvd. from 11th Avenue, you will notice a number of grazing goats on the west-facing slope. The goats are property of 4 Leaf Ranch, LLC out of Kamas, Utah. The goats have been working hard since around the end of May, providing an eco-friendly way to effectively control weeds and unwanted vegetation. As you know, many of the homes along the City Creek Natural Area are located on steep hills, and the goats are able to access and graze areas that otherwise would not be accessible by heavy farm machinery.

Goats are also used to create firebreaks, which are especially important in our area where high grasses and increasing temperatures can create significant risk of fire.

Be sure to stop by and watch the goats work while you still can, and remember to thank them for reducing the carbon footprint here in the Salt Lake Valley!

Back to the "GOAT" onversation... If you ask me, as hard as it is to admit, the GOAT crown has to go to Tom Brady. But, as a Philadelphia Eagles fan, I'm incredibly fortunate that one of Brady's Super Bowl losses came from my team!

10 TIPS FOR HIKING WITH KIDS

- PICK A REALISTIC HIKE
Pick a route that's long enough to feel like you and your kids have accomplished something, and short enough to be hikeable for your entire family.
- CHOOSE INTERESTING FEATURES AND DESTINATIONS
Kids love interesting things like streams, lakes, or fantastic views. Don't forget the destination either.
- PLAN FOR STOPS ALONG THE WAY
Keep your expectations low and plan for plenty of stops. At each stop, play a game, explore nature, or eat a snack.
- BRING SNACKS
Don't get caught on a trail without snacks for your kids. It'll give them the energy they need to keep going, and keep everyone happier throughout the hike.
- BE PREPARED
Bring a first aid kit, extra snacks, a plastic bag with a few wet-wipes, sunscreen, and a cell phone.
- DRESS IN LAYERS
Dress yourself and your kids in layers that are easily removable as you go. Bring rain clothes if it looks even remotely cloudy.
- WATER, WATER, WATER!
Pack enough water for everyone in the group, and take the time to drink it.
Adults = ½ liter of water per hour
Children = 1-2 cups per hour
- DON'T FORGET SUN PROTECTION
Apply sunscreen before your hike and reapply it every two hours. Wear sunglasses, hats, lightweight pants or long-sleeved shirts for added sun protection.
- HIKE WITH A BACKPACK CARRIER
Having an infant or toddler doesn't mean you have to stay home. Bring young ones along in a baby carrier.
- GO OFTEN
The best way to get your kids excited about hiking is to hike often. When kids have exposure to nature and hiking, they'll learn to love it.
